WANTED HERE, SENT TO PEN

A former Franklin County orchard worker, who admitted having served three previous sentences in state penitentiaries, received a fourth sentence Friday when he appeared before Judge Chauncey M. DePuy in Franklin County court at Chambersburg on two forgery charges.

Robert O'Brien, 56, alias Clifford McFerren, received four concurrent running penitentiary sentences of one to two years from Judge DePuy—one sentence each on two counts of forgery and one each on two counts of passing a forged check. The sentences were dated as of October 28, the day of O'Brien's arrest.

As a part of the sentences, O'Brien must also pay a $100 fine, pay the prosecution costs and make restitution to his two check victims—$38.50 to the McCleary Bros. service station in Chambersburg and $30 to the Sears, Roebuck Co. store there.

Sheriff James W. Coldsmith was directed to deliver O'Brien to the Eastern Diagnostic and Correctional Center in Philadelphia for assignment to a proper institution.

O'Brien, who has a long record of arrests and convictions on charges of forgery, larceny and assault, told the court that in recent months he had been residing at an orchard labor camp near Siloam. He said he is a native of High Point, N. C.

A detainer filed there for custody of O'Brien by Adams County officials will accompany the prisoner to the penitentiary. He is wanted here for parole violation.

President's Xmas Message Is Broadcast From Atlas, Streaking At 17,000 MPH

By C. YATES MCDANIEL

WASHINGTON (AP) — America's pride of the heavens soared high around the world today ready to send anew a presidential yuletide message of good will.

Jubilant architects of the four-ton Atlas said it would be early afternoon before they decide about rerigging their talking satellite to broadcast tape-recorded words from President Eisenhower.

The next step, when the scientists figure they have enough initial data in hand, will be to erase the message and send up another to be released by remote control as Atlas continues its travels.

This second phase of the pioneering project promised to point the way to a revolution in communications — mass transmissions of sound and pictures to anywhere on earth through a satellite network.

Broadcasts like the Message And in the hours following Atlas' mighty blastoff from its Cape Canaveral, Fla., launching site Thursday night, statesmen assessed its boost to U.S. strength in the great East-West struggle.

Atlas struck another propaganda blow for this country at 3:15 p.m. Friday when, zipping at 17,000 m.p.h. over Cape Canaveral, it rebroadcast as scheduled a short Eisenhower message recorded

TWO CRASHES INVESTIGATED FRIDAY NIGHT

State Police were called to two accidents Friday evening in which autos attempted turns and were struck by other cars that were in the act of passing. No one was injured in either accident.

The first happened at 5:30 o'clock one mile north of York Springs on the Harrisburg Rd. Police said damage totaled $200 — $100 to each car — when Bobette Y. Lobough, 28, York Springs R. 1, attempted a left turn onto a township road. As she did so, according to police, Roy E. White, 31, Palmyra, also headed north, attempted to pass the Lobough vehicle and as a result the White car struck the side of the Lobough auto.

The other crash at 7:15 o'clock one-tenth of a mile east of here on the Lincoln Highway, occurred under similar circumstances. Police said Mary E. Bupp, 49, Gettysburg R. 5, driving west, attempted a "U" turn as George E. Costella, 23, New Oxford R. 1, also going west, attempted to pass the Bupp car. The Costella auto crashed into the side of the Bupp vehicle.

Turn Over Case To FBI

Police are continuing their investigation of both accidents.

The local officers this morning also reported completion of an investigation of an accident on December 5, 13 miles west of here on the Lincoln Highway. At 2:30 o'clock on that morning an automobile left the three-lane highway at Caledonia and hit a tree. Two young men who gave their ages as 17 and their addresses as New Haven, Conn., were in the car. Both were injured and removed to the Chambersburg Hospital.

Police found the 19-year-old, who was driving the car and who had claimed the identity of Glenn F. Estep, had borrowed the identity from a driver's license he had stolen. His real name is Charles L. McGilton, New Haven Conn. The other occupant of the car, Stephen T. Siedlard, 17, New Haven, had given his right name and age.

The car they were driving was owned, police said, by David M. Vaughan, Kansas City, Mo., a student at Yale University. The car had been stolen December 4 from the campus of Yale University. The state police turned the matter over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation to bring the charge of driving a stolen car across state lines.

Potomac's Oyster Wars Are Ending

MT. VERNON, Va. (AP)—The Potomac River oyster wars between Maryland and Virginia fishermen may end today.

They've feuded since colonial days over fishing rights. In recent years a number of their skirmishes have brought gunfire and wounding.

A new agreement will regulate fishing laws in the Potomac, a common boundary of the two states.

Maryland and Virginia negotiators chose Mt. Vernon, home of George Washington, as the site for their settlement because it was here in 1785 that the original compact between the states was formulated.

Letters To The Editor

Elizabethtown College Elizabethtown, Penna.
Mr. Paul L. Roy, Editor
The Gettysburg Times
18-20 Carlisle Street
Gettysburg, Pennsylvania
Dear Mr. Roy:

Just a week ago I returned from a fabulous whirl of Chicago. During the 37th National 4-H Club Congress everyone from the president of General Motors to the elevator operators of the Conrad Hilton Hotel and the police force of Chicago did their utmost to make us delegates feel welcome. This they accomplished to perfection.

But I experienced something more than just good food and fun. We 1,325 delegates from the 49 states, Hawaii, and Puerto Rico, representatives of 18 foreign countries, and leaders and friends of the 4-H program were one closely knit unit. With no language or racial barriers we joked, sang, ate, and danced together in an atmosphere of "oneness."

In the darkness of the Hilton's Grand Ballroom we 2,000 believers in 4-H sang the "Star Spangled Banner" while viewing the spot-lighted, waving American flag through a veil of tears. Even though each of us, all achievement winners in some field, were treated as royalty we humbly admired the two national achievement winners who would be our ambassadors to all the world. Inspiration, patriotism, reverence for life, and love of God filled each of us.

I owe my deepest gratitude to all those who made my trip possible — Edward Foss Wilson, assistant Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare, who personally sponsored the leadership program; all the 4-H leaders on the national, state, and local levels; the financial assistance of Adams County; my parents; and many others. This experience of Club Congress will live in my heart forever as an inspiration "to make the best better" and to bring "peace on earth."

Gratefully yours,

Elizabeth L. Dorr

SEOUL (AP) — Fighting broke out in the South Korean National Assembly today when guards tried to remove bedding of opposition Democrats who were staging a sitdown strike.

One Democrat was seriously hurt in the 10-minute fight which smashed furniture and overturned the speaker's rostrum. He was hospitalized.

The sitdown began Friday in protest to a bill by President Syngman Rhee's Liberals to amend the National Security Law.

The Liberals say the changes are needed to deal with increased communist espionage. The Democrats contend the changes would curtail press freedom and human rights.

OTTAWA (AP) — One of Canada's best-known geologists, Dr. Charles Cammell, 82, died at his home here Friday night.

Cammell was deputy minister of the Canadian Mines and Resources Department and commissioner of Canada's Northwest Territories from 1937 until his retirement in 1946.

Born at Fort Liard, in the southwest corner of the Northwest Territories, Cammell spent much of his time from 1903 until the 1930s exploring the Mackenzie River area and other parts of the territories.

He did graduate work at Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Harvard College.

MADRID (AP) — The government says legal action has been started against a number of Spaniards involved in illegal money deals. It is expected to be the largest financial scandal since Generalissimo Franco came to power.

Reliable reports said 100 million dollars or more was involved. Some of the biggest names in Spanish banking, business and industry are reported to be engaged in buying dollars as a hedge against Spain's runaway inflation.

The government communique, issued after a cabinet meeting Friday, said some arrests have been made and others will follow.

ATHENS (AP) — William Rountree left by plane for London today on his way back to Washington. The U. S. assistant secretary of state stopped here for two days after touring the Middle East for almost two weeks.

The Greek Information Ministry issued a statement saying Rountree's visit here had no specific purpose. He discussed the Middle East and the Cyprus problem with Greek officials, the ministry said.

Signs Final Decree To Prevent Merger

NEW YORK (AP) — A federal court judge Friday signed a final decree enjoining Bethlehem Steel Corp. and Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co. from merging or entering into any similar plan or agreement.

Judge Edward Weinfeld, after a lengthy trial, ruled last Nov. 20 that there was a reasonable probability that the merger would violate the Clayton Antitrust Act, less competition and tend toward monopoly in the iron and steel industry.

The merger agreement — dated Dec. 11, 1956 — would have produced a firm with assets totaling more than three billion dollars. This would have resulted in the largest corporate union in business history.

The companies are now preparing an appeal.

CHRISTMAS IS INVOLVED IN CHURCH-STATE CONTROVERSY

By TOM HENSHAW

The joyous Christmas season, dedicated by Christians to their Prince of Peace, seems to be getting more and more involved in the touchy church and state controversy.

Last week, a New York State Supreme Court justice ruled it permissible for the Ossining, N.Y., school board to display a Christmas creche — a Nativity scene — on the lawn of the town's junior-senior high school.

The very next day, the School Board in Levittown, N.Y., voted 5-1 not to display a similar creche on the grounds of one of its public schools.

Last year, a group of parents in Delaware Township, N.J., protested the staging of a Nativity play by children in an elementary school, partly on the grounds that it ran counter to their religious beliefs.

Those are not isolated incidents, peculiar to the communities of Ossining, Levittown and Delaware Township. They are skirmishes in the cross-country war of words over what is called "separation of church and state."

The arguments used recently on both sides in the public school Christmas controversy are worth noting for the question is basic, overlaid with emotion and difficult to solve — and we're going to have it around in some form for a long time.

"Inescapable" Anyway

Justice Elbert T. Gallagher of the New York State Supreme Court, who ruled in favor of those who wanted to place the creche on the school lawn in Ossining: "The court is of the opinion that the influence, if any, of religious symbolism is inescapable during the Christmas season."

"It would be difficult to say that, as a practical matter, any greater influence exists by virtue of the fact that the symbol is permitted on public as well as private property."

The Basic Problem

Isaac Toubin, executive director of the American Jewish Congress, which plans to file a brief as "friend of the court" in support of some 28 Jews and non-Jews who protested the creche:

"The basic question at issue is whether a scene depicting the birth of Jesus — a symbol of one religion — may be placed on public property that belongs to people of all religions."

A statement attributed to a group of Ossining residents who favor displaying the creche:

"The overwhelming majority of the citizens in our community accept the fact that Jesus Christ is the Son of God and that his birth, which Christmas commemorates, was the most important single event in the history of the world."

Philip Jacobson, a lawyer, writing in a recent issue of the Christian Century, a non-denominational Protestant journal:

"Each society . . . is entitled to decide for itself whether generally accepted habits of thought

LINER GUIDES LOST PLANE

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP)—A United Airlines DC-6 with 42 passengers aboard shepherded a single engine plane lost in a bank of clouds to safety late Thursday at Youngstown Municipal Airport.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Sven Persson of Youngstown were in the single-engine Cessna when they ran into the heavy layer of clouds. Both had flying experience but had no instrument training. They were returning from Aspen, Colo.

Persson, flying at 8,000 feet, radioed the Civil Aeronautics Administration (CAA) officer at the Youngstown airport and told of his problem. The officer, Roger Graves, advised Persson that a United Airliner was due in the area shortly.

Then Graves diverted all other traffic, including jet planes from the airbase here to Columbus. He called Capt. Joseph Matuna, the pilot on United Flight 917 from Philadelphia.

Both Persson and Matuna hooked up on the same radio frequency and the big craft gave out compass headings. The Cessna followed down through the two layers of clouds.

County Gets White Blanket
Over Week-End: Adams County
today was blanketed with a 4 1/2 to 7 1/2 inch carpet of snow, but the weatherman said that a fresh snowfall would probably be required if the county is to have a white Christmas. Warmer weather today and Tuesday is expected to turn the fresh white mantle into the usual combination of slush, mud and high level streams.The snow started about 1:30 o'clock Sunday morning and the county awoke to the delighted cries of the youngsters and twiches among the back muscles of those elders whose duty it is to shovel away the stuff.General "Ike" Remembers

Today's Talk

FOR LOVE OF PEOPLE

I wonder if we give much more thought to others than ourselves day after day? Even though we know but comparatively few people, what would we do without those whom we only meet and pass on the street, or meet with some of our own friends? Friends are essential equipment for a happy journey through life!I came across this thought in one of the delightful books that David Grayson left us. He said:
"How it improves people for us
when we begin to love them."
Why should there ever be bitter talk, or about, another? It's so uplifting to be on terms of pleasantness with all with whom we may work or associate. I like people who say nice things about other people. It gives assurance that they are most liable to say nice things about us when we are absent from them.Never have friends meant so much as now. We need that love for people which David Grayson
mentioned in his book. You see,
the more we love people the easier it is to overlook their faults and failures. Also we learn how easy it is to gain new friends if we take them as they are, and love our way with them from that point on. Many a man has accumulated a goodly portion in money or lands but without any genuine love for people. To such always comes a time when this material wealth shrinks and gives no happiness. In the end it is people who are the greatest benefit to others. They are far better than gold, or any other form of wealth. What a world this one of ours would be if largely devoted to a love for people!Protected, 1958, by The George

RICH

It's getting on to Christmas,
And the pocketbook is low,
But the heart is beating lively
And the cheeks are all aglow.And the smiles are spreading broader
Than they ever did before,
And we're just a little kinder
To the stranger at the door.It's getting on to Christmas,
And our cash is almost spent,
But we're richer in good nature
And in love and sentiment.Protected, 1958, by The George

year old son William arrived at

Miscellaneous NotesThis article includes, insofar
as possible, all facets of our county's historical background. Narrative history, genealogy, cemetery,
and church records will be presented from time to time. The late Dr. Henry Egle, state librarian, historian, and genealogist, originated this type of column in Pennsylvania and his writings
are of untold value to the researcher.The genealogical notes on the Sweeney (Sweeney) family, of the Marsh Creek Settlement, will be discontinued until next week in order that some early county church history might be given at this time.Several weeks ago notes on the Rev. Fr. William Thompson, son of the Rev. Samuel Thompson, of Great Conewago Presbyterian Church, were included in this series. On file with the "Society for the Propagation of the Gospel
in Foreign Parts," London, the oldest missionary society in the world, are some letters, written by Father Thompson, during the Indian wars, as follows:—

Indian Incursions

"Carlisle, 18th July, 1763

Rev. Sir:—
"The Indians have again made incursions upon our frontiers, killing, scalping and butchering all who are so unhappy as to fall into their hands. There are upwards of 1,500 plantations evacuated and people are daily crowding towards the interior parts of the province for refuge, leaving all they have to the spoil of a merciless, cruelly bloodthirsty Barbarian. I am heartily sorry to inform you that I am so unhappy
as to make one of the number that have fled and left the greatest part of my living to be pillaged
by the Heathen. I have brought my wife to this little town where every hut is filled with helpless
women and children and where we expect almost any moment
an invasion from our Enemies.
What the event will be God only knows but without his Almighty Aid and interposition there is neither appearance of safety or relief in the Part. Every face here is covered with the Greatest Melancholy and despair."Disagreeable Situation"
"My situation here is, very disagreeable, penn'd in a small Fort without being able to pass my circuit with safety, and what makes it more deplorable no appearance of being relieved."A second letter from the Rev.
Father Thompson is dated "Carlisle, 2nd, 1763" and gives further details of conditions on the frontier:—"We had very little respite from Indian Ravages since my letter to you dated the 18th of July last."The distressing circumstances of the Mission I can't possibly describe. Everything here is in the greatest confusion and utmost disorder. The Farmers and Inhabitants of this County are daily flying from place to place where they can have any prospect of safety, and indeed many are reduced to the necessity of taking up their Lodging in the open air without shelter or clothing to cover them from the inclemency of the weather or even Bread for themselves or families to subsist
on. Our ears are daily alarmed with the shocking news of fresh Butcheries committed by the heathen on some of our friends or neighbors. Butcheries of the worst kind that Heathenish cruelty can be guilty of. I have with great difficulty waded through my tour
of duty and the often in the midst of danger, yet I always had the satisfaction of meeting my parishioners at their respective Churches with hearts glowing with the Love of their Country and Religion and seem firmly resolved to defend both at the risk of their lives.Fight Savages
"Col. Bouquet is got safe to Fort Pitt with a very considerable loss. He was warmly engaged with the Savages for two days, but to his eternal honor be
it spoke, he routed them and disconcerted their designs and imported them to flight, and carried his important convoy to the relief of the poor distressed people at Fort Pitt who were obligated by the enemy to stay there upwards of two months without either good or wholesome provisions. This unequal behavior will I hope be a means of restoring peace to this part of our colony sooner than we at first expected."The engagement or battle mentioned by Father Thompson in his second letter was the Battle of Bushy Run which, viewed in the light of later events, opened the west to settlement. It took place near the close of Pontiac's War,
which began in the spring of 1763 and was the result of broken treaties and promises between the provincial authorities
and the Indians.War Belt of Wampum
Pontiac was a Catawba Indian
but was trained by the Ottawas
who had captured him when but a boy. He became their chief civil ruler, or Sachem, by sheer force
of superior intelligence and courage.
He took part in the disastrous defeat of General Edward Braddock on July 9, 1755. From that day he had nothing but contempt
for the English and plotted cleverly to stop the inroads of the white man, particularly the English.Chosen warriors of Chief Pontiac visited all the tribes between the Upper Lakes, the Mississippi and the Ohio rivers, bearing from camp to camp the war belt of wampum and a tomahawk stained
red. His war plans were welcomed by the long-embittered Indians
and a time to attack was chosen.
A season when the savages could conceal themselves in the foliage
of trees and bushes, and the settlers would be busily engaged with their crops was picked for a united attack on all forts, blockhouses, settlements, and cabins.The scheme of Pontiac worked splendidly and nine major forts
fell to the savages, Fort Pitt (now
Pittsburgh) and Fort Bedford (now Bedford) were among the few that held out when attacked by superior forces. Colonel Henry Bouquet was ordered to the relief of Fort Pitt, and left Carlisle with his small force in July of 1763. On July 25, 1763, he reached Fort Bedford, and on August 2
was at Fort Ligonier. On August 5 Bouquet and his men were attacked by the Indians at a place called Bushy Run. The result of this engagement is well known,
the conspiracy of Pontiac was defeated, and the way to the great west was opened.The Rev. Fr. William Thompson was the pastor at St. John's Church, Carlisle; Christ Church, Huntington Township, York (now Adams) County, and St. John's Church, York. He lived with his wife, Susanna Ross, and their children, at Christ Church, Huntington Township, this County, for that congregation was the only one of the three that provided,
at that time, a rectory. Conditions must have been most difficult in this section when he was forced to take his wife to Fort Lowther (Carlisle) for safety, while he tried to serve his three parishes. Rev. Fr. Thompson was the second of the resident priests
at the three churches mentioned above, the first being the Rev.
Fr. Thomas Barton.

Supplied Churches

In returning to the early history of the Presbyterian Church
in this county, one of the early records of the Presbytery of Donegal records the appointment of the Rev. Samuel Caven, then pastor of the Falling Springs Presbyterian Church (Chambersburg, Pa.) "to supply Great Conewago and Marsh Creek."
This he was to do on the "first Sabbath of July, 1740." He was also directed "to inquire into the state of settlement and make report at our next." Mr. Caven's report was not read at the next meeting of Presbytery, but it was stated that he had supplied the churches as directed, and was ordered to visit them again in September and October of the same year. When the Presbytery met the following year (1741) at the Forks of the Brandywine, Mr.
Caven's congregation asked that the relation between them might be dissolved. They made five charges against him and the fifth one seemed to sum them all up for it read, in part, "When
Mr. Caven is abroad, a bad story invariably comes back after him."The Rev. Samuel Caven (or Cavin) was mentioned several weeks ago in this column. However, since he is the first minister mentioned in connection with the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church, it seems appropriate that a more detailed account should be given.Samuel Caven came to this country as a licentiate from Ireland and was sent by the Presbytery
of Donegal, November 16, 1737,
to Conococheague. This congregation at that time included Falling Spring (Chambersburg), Greencastle, Mercersburg, and Welsh Run. Rev. Caven was ordained and installed over these congregations on November 16, 1737. His ministry among these people apparently had its "ups and downs."
These notes will be continued
next week.BLAST KILLS 5
IN MEXICO BARMEXICO CITY (AP)—Police investigated today the possibility that a bomb caused an explosion which killed five persons in a crowded restaurant and bar.The blast critically injured 13
others Friday night in La Ronda,
a popular tourist attraction close to the U.S. embassy.
Police Gen. Luis Cueto said
three dead men were restaurant
employees, two of them musicians.
A fourth, identified only by a ring with the initials R.C.D. also was believed to be an employee.U.S. Consul Charles Gendreau said the fifth person might be an American woman but this was uncertain.

Suspect Bomb

A party of Cubans was among the patrons, leading police to speculate that a bomb might have been intended for them. Supporters of both President Fulgencio Batista of Cuba and his rebel opponent Fidel Castro live in Mexico City.The explosion was centered in the bar, knocking out the front
walls and causing one car parked outside to explode. The dining area was lightly damaged and the kitchen untouched.Police ruled out a gas line explosion since that would have damaged the kitchen.Mother And Baby

CHANGES NAMENEW YORK (AP)—A famous name in American financial history, J. P. Morgan & Co., will undergo a slight alteration as a result of a merger.
The Morgan firm will be merged with Guaranty Trust Co. to form Morgan Guaranty Trust Co. of New York. The new institution will be the fourth largest bank in the nation on the basis of capital,
assets and earnings.
Both banks are known as
"wholesale banks" rather than retail banks. Wholesale banks act as banks for businesses and other banks rather than going in for such consumer items as personal loans. The merged bank will continue as a wholesale bank.Henry C. Alexander, Morgan chairman, will become chairman and chief executive officer of the bank.Alexander said the reason for the merger was the growth of the company and its business and commerce.

"Quality Of Greatness"HUBERT HUMPHREY'S Presidential campaign was launched
"from the steps of the Kremlin,"
so says the savvy savant of the
New York Times, Arthur Krock. Moreover, in his essay of December 9, he briefs a whimsical but solid case.At that time Minnesota's new senior senator (Democrat-Farmer-Labor) was carefully nursing his publicity drawing "secrets,"
from Khrushchev to Ike, through a series of ever more teasing and headline catching press conferences.These were seeded in Moscow,
stemmed in Oslo, budded in London, bloomed in New York, and floriated in Washington.

THE PRESIDENTIAL BILL

has been buzzing within Mr.
Humphrey's senatorial aura ever since.Few, if any, think the senator planned it that way. But Harding did not plan it when his name became that of the senator most available in that smoke filled room of the Blackstone Hotel in Chicago. Harding's move toward the Presidential nomination was one of opportunism.The same goes for Minnesota's favorite son, even though the unexpected lift into the gorgeous limelight of international publicity did fortuitously come from a dubious character by the name of Nikita Khrushchev.IT HAPPENED like this. Senator and Mrs. Humphrey were in Moscow. He told the Russian gambles he wanted to see certain ministers; to write a short article for Izvestia; to have time on the Red TV network to tell all the good things about America.He got them all, topped by a full eight hours of informalities
with Khrushchev. Thus he aced Adlai Stevenson's chosen gim-
rick for keeping his own name
bright in party lights; i.e., extensive travels through and expansive writings on Russia.The senator artfully dripped
most of the results of his winning play to the world in the above mentioned press conferences. It gave him a terrific, international forum.
And according to the senator's
own account, he took the strong,
tough, anti-Red line. Every self-quote has a good, solid vote-getting quality.TO KEEP HIS NAME in the right hand columns of the nation's front pages, the senator gradually revealed a grim determination to keep inviolate two vital secrets
Khrushchev had told him.Nikita wanted them told to Ike.
This sudden and solicitous assistance from one of the most articulate critics of current foreign policies must have occasioned
more than passing surprise in the White House!But long before he ever got to Washington, Mr. Humphrey's additional drippings from the long conference had narrowed the two secrets down to the Berlin situation (not too serious, he quickly admitted) and Russian atomic progress.BY THE TIME he reached New York, Senator Humphrey was reasonably sure the White House knew the secrets anyway, but would carry out his mission.And now that he was back home and talking to voters, he had a few suggestions as to how things could be done better. He wanted a more imaginative diplomacy. Avoid "barren, sterile and futile" threats.MRS. F. D. ROOSEVELT was naturally the first to get the drift
of things. She suddenly and publicly thought the senator had a certain quality of greatness that might make him a good 1960
Presidential candidate.Confronted with this outright opinion, Mr. Humphrey merely smiled with appreciation and said,
"She's a lively lady." At it that is news.THE SENATOR was back home in Minneapolis last Saturday. At a Democrat-Farmer-Labor dinner at the Hotel Pick Nicollet he again ducked personal plans and ambitions with such nobilities as "We need more political performance and fewer political performers."This and other remarks were interpreted as sideways at Adlai
Stevenson and Senator Kennedy
(D. Mass.), both natural rivals for delegations of Northern Democrats.A friend of Humphrey's thinks this a mistake. "They'll now be on their toes to exploit Hubert's first error."I do not agree. Such a clever campaigner need not make an error. Besides, Adlai and Kennedy are on their toes anyway.
And the secrets? Oh, yes. Senator Humphrey appears to have been right in his New York assumption that Ike probably knew them already.REMOVES SIGN

Warriors Upset Hershey In League Opener 50-41; Carlisle Here Tuesday

Gettysburg High School's basketballers (2-1) got off to an auspicious start in the South Penn Basketball League by upsetting Hershey 50-41 Friday evening on the Trojans' floor.

The Warriors displayed their best form of the season and their well-balanced attack was led by Mike Small and Sid Weikert, each of whom collected 12 points. Both rebounded well. Hardy Nichols, Tom Crist and Bob Furney also played fine games in giving the Warriors a solid team triumph.

Gettysburg shot out into the lead on fouls by Crist and Furney and a jump shot by Weikert. Jim Price tabbed two fouls for Hershey and then Wayne Foust looped a jump shot for the Trojans' first goal with 3:34 minutes remaining. Nichols and Foust matched goals. Nichols and Weikert added twin pointers before Klug connected as Gettysburg led 10-8 at the quarter.

GHS Closes Fast
Goals by Faust and Snyder sent Hershey ahead 12-10 for the first time after 1:41 of the second quarter. The Trojans held their last lead at 16-14 with less than two minutes left. A run of 10 straight points on goals by Weikert, Nichols, two by Furney and another by Small gave Gettysburg a 24-16 lead at the half and they were never seriously threatened thereafter.

Weikert, Small, Crist and Furney led the Forney-men to a 37-23 lead at the end of the third period. Price and Faust landed Hershey's only points of the period.

Twice the Warriors hiked their lead to 17 points early in the final frame at 41-24 and 47-30. The Trojans took advantage of the presence of a number of Warrior reserves in the closing minutes to score heavily in the closing moments.

Scrubs Cop Third
The unbeaten Warrior junior varsity ran its winning streak to three by breezing to a 40-27 triumph in the preliminary.

Bob Nicholson's team led all the way, holding a 21-14 lead at half time. Howard Miller and Roger Ecker combined for 21 points for the winners.

Carlisle's unbeaten dribblers, defending league champions, will play here Tuesday evening in another league game.

EXPECT 72,000 TO SEE GIANTS, BROWNS GAME

By JACK HAND

Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — For the third and positively last time, the Cleveland Browns and New York Giants meet Sunday for the Eastern Conference title of the National Football League.

Beating Cleveland once a year is more than most clubs can handle. The Giants already have done it twice despite the tremendous power running of Jimmy Brown. Now they must do it a third time — or else.

Yankee Stadium will be bulging with a sellout crowd of 72,000 to watch the league's best defense again collide with Brown, the best ground gainer in league history.

Clear And Cold

Only the weatherman can spoil the party and he promises to be on his good behavior. Good, that is, compared with last Sunday when snow turned the Stadium into a Christmas card setting. They say it will be clear and cold with the highest thermometer reading around 24 degrees. The field is in fairly good shape.

The only tickets left are the 12,000 bleacher seats and 5,000 standing room positions that go on sale Sunday morning at the Stadium.

Television (CBS) will carry the game to all corners of the nation except for a blackout of the New York area. Game time is 2 p.m. (EST).

Playoff Dec. 28

The winner goes into the rich championship playoff, Dec. 28, against the Baltimore Colts. As that game will be played in a big ball park, either New York or Cleveland, and the players get 70 per cent of the gate, including the $200,000 TV money, a winning share should be over $4,500.

The Giants' sturdy defensive unit is hale and hearty, ready to take another shot at stopping the fabulous Mr. Brown. But the offensive unit is crippled.

Alex Webster, the club's leading pass catcher and runner in last Sunday's 13-10 victory, didn't even work out Friday. Both knees are damaged, but he probably will be in there as long as he can hobble.

Jack Stroud, a regular tackle, didn't play last week and isn't due to start. Al Barry, a regular guard, has an infected toe, but probably will play. Buzz Guy, a handyman guard or tackle, is out with a chipped bone in his ankle. To cap it all Pat Summerall, whose 49-yard field goal beat the Browns last Sunday, has been bothered all week by a leg injury.

Conerly Is Threat

Chuck Conerly's passing beat the Browns in Cleveland Nov. 2 when he threw for three touchdowns in a 21-17 game. It probably will be Conerly chucking again as the main threat of the Giants' offense.

Cleveland's bread and butter game all season has been Brown's strong running and the field goals of Lou Groza. Milt Plum passes only enough to take the pressure off Brown, although he has a talented receiver in Ray Renfro. Coach Paul Brown has indicated he may do more throwing this week.

If the score is tied after regulation time, they will keep going to a sudden death ending. The first team to score a point will win. Because of this factor, the books are quoting no points this week. In man-to-man betting the Giants are 11-10 favorites.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

Redskin Owner May Sell Share If—

WASHINGTON (AP) — George Marshall says he might sell out his controlling share in the Washington Redskins if—

He could swing a deal that would net him a lot of money. The new owner would permit him to continue running the pro football club for at least a decade.

Marshall didn't say how much money he'd want, but it probably would take a seven figure sum to buy his 69 per cent interest. He has controlled the club since it entered the National Football League in 1932, first at Boston and later in a franchise switch here.

Marshall told Newsweek Friday that more than 20 persons have asked about buying the team over the years.

ROCKETS DOWN BERMUDIAN JT.

Bermudian Joint gave unbeaten Spring Grove a real scare Friday evening before submitting 56-43 at East Berlin as the Rockets put on a blistering final period to gain the decision.

Bermudian (0-4) jumped off to a 13-6 lead in the opening period, led 25-21 at half time and went into the last frame with a narrow 38-36 margin.

Spring Grove then erupted for 20 points during the final eight minutes of actions as Bermudian could manage but five points. It was the fifth straight win for the Rockets.

George Williams and Charley Cronister netted 18 and 14 respectively, for Bermudian. Bob Hancock and Dennis Mummert each collected 15 for the winners.

The Bermudian reserves absorbed a 71-26 shellacking in the preliminary.

Bermudian is idle until January 2 when it entertains New Oxford in an Adams-Franklin League game.

COLLEGE CAGE CLASHES ARE IN HIGH GEAR

By DON WEISS

Associated Press Sports Writer

The battle lines are forming early this college basketball season and, with pairings like Kentucky-West Virginia, North Carolina-Northwestern and Auburn-Alabama, the sport has itself a tidy Saturday program coming up.

West Virginia, which used the Kentucky Invitation Tournament as a springboard to the No. 1 national ranking a year ago, meets host Kentucky in the current renewal at Lexington. North Carolina and Northwestern, both unbeaten clash in the Blue Grass Tournament finals at Louisville, and the Auburn-Alabama match is for the championship of the Birmingham Classic.

Coupled with another heavy round of major school inter-sectional play and the reappearance of Oscar Robertson and his top-ranking Cincinnati Bearcats (they seek No. 5 against St. Louis), there's plenty to what the appetite of even the most exacting basketball fan.

Big Games Friday

He nearly had his fill Friday night with eight of the AP's top ten in action together with most of the hopeful challengers.

West Virginia, No. 7, hitting 76.2 per cent from the field in the first half and 54.9 for the game, overwhelmed Oklahoma State 67-49 and Kentucky, No. 2, despite the illness of regulars Don Mills and Billy Ray Lickert, thrashed Ohio State 95-76.

North Carolina, with Lee Schaffer whipping in 24 points, toppled disappointing Notre Dame 81-77 and Northwestern, matching the Tar Heels' 4-0 record, beat host Louisville 73-66 in the Blue Grass.

Auburn Wins 15th

Auburn's winning streak, longest among the major schools, rose to 15 in a 70-47 romp over Wyoming in the Birmingham Classic before Alabama clipped previously unbeaten Texas A&M 66-62.

In other tournaments, The Citadel (78-52 over Georgia) and Miami of Florida (85-79 over Florida State) made it to the title game of the Citadel Invitation at Charleston, S.C., and Catawba and Troy (Ala.) reached the Stetson Invitation wrapup. Catawba beat Birmingham Southern 66-69 and Troy eliminated Southern 68-63.

Along with Kentucky, Auburn, North Carolina and Northwestern, five other teams extended their perfect records in the bustling Friday action while four others besides Texas A&M were dumped from the all-winning class.

Win In Overtime

Mississippi State, with Bailey Howell scoring 31, coasted over Morehead (Ky.) 87-63 for its seventh straight, and St. Joseph's of Philadelphia — maybe the East's best — made it 6-0 by downing Kansas 67-65 in overtime. That one came as part of a double-header at Manhattan, Kan. before Kansas State, behind Bob Boozler's 19 points, recorded North Carolina State's first loss in six starts, 69-67.

Xavier of Ohio, defending NIT champ, rallied behind Hank Stein's 15 points in the second half for its fifth straight — nine overall — 80-68 over previously unbeaten Seattle. Niagara is 5-0 after a 72-71 squeaker over Kent State and Cornell stands 4-0 after surprising Syracuse 77-74.

Suffer First Losses

Southern California and Muhlenberg suffered their first losses — the Trojans to Oklahoma 66-56 and the Mules 52-51 to five-time loser Temple as Bill (Pickles) Kennedy nit with a jump shot with five seconds left.

Gene Estes' 30-footer with four seconds remaining for Tulsa beat Arkansas 54-52 and Texas Tech with an afternoon national TV date today (NBC) against Missouri, warmed up with a 73-60 decision over Louisiana State.

The Pacific Coast Conference swept a doubleheader from the Big Ten at Madison, Wis., with Washington topping the host Badgers 62-48 and California, now 4-1, defeating Iowa 71-52. Indiana recovered a little conference prestige, nipping Oregon State on the West Coast, 57-53.

Brigham Young, 5-1, whipped Santa Clara 80-59. Monahan won its first in six tries 53-43 from Washington State, and St. Mary's of California edged Utah 75-73 in other Western features.

Iowa Eleven Is Affected By Smog

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—May-be California's football team can't stop Iowa but California's smog can.

Coach Forest Evashevski cut short the second of two heavy workouts Friday when some of his Hawkeyes complained the thick smog blanketing the field was too much for them.

The boys from the Midwest found it hard to catch their breath when they gulped in lungfuls of the smog-tainted air. Even if the air had been crystal clear, however, they would have been out of breath. For Evashevski drove them hard in both workouts.

The Big Ten champs, who face California in the Rose Bowl New Year's Day, are making up time lost because of inclement weather at home after their regular season closed.

Delone Meets WY In Tourney Opener

Detailed plans for the second annual Spring Grove High School Invitation basketball tournament have been announced. The two-day affair is slated at the Spring Grove gym, Dec. 26 and 27.

In the opening game on Friday, West York will meet Delone of McSherrystown at 7 p.m. while the host Spring Grove team will oppose York Catholic in the second part of the twin bill.

Losers meet Saturday at 7 p.m. for third place with Friday's winners clashing in the title game an hour later.

The winning team will receive a trophy as will 12 members of its squad. Five all-star players will be named and awarded trophies while the tournament's outstanding player also will be honored.

EXPECT 20,000 TO SEE COPPER BOWL CONTEST

TEMPE, Ariz. (AP) — The Southwest, capital of razzle-dazzle college football, takes on the rest of the nation tonight in the first annual Copper Bowl Game.

The odds-makers believe the National All-Stars' power will knock the dazzle out of the Southwest's razzle, and the Nationals are 10-points favorites.

More than 20,000 are expected to see the squads clash at 8 p.m. (MST) in Arizona State Stadium for the benefit of the March of Dimes polo fund.

The Southwest team was picked from the Skyline, Border, Southwest, Big Eight and Missouri Valley conferences, the Nationals from the rest of the nation.

Three Arizona State stars — quarterback John Hangartner, halfback Leon Burton and fullback Joe Beland — are starting the Southwest backfield. Ron Morris of Tulsa, leading 1958 ground gainer in the Missouri Valley Conference, will round out the backfield.

Southwest Coaches Frank Broyles of Arkansas and Frank Kush of Arizona State promise a wide-open attack against their heftier rivals.

The National Backfield has John Green, Little All-America quarterback from Chattanooga, halfbacks Tom Barnett of Purdue and Bill Butler of Chattanooga and All-Cot fullback Chuck Morrell of Washington State.

Coaches Phil Dickens of Indiana and Don Clark of Southern California said the Nationals will use only about six runnings plays and five pass patterns, plus variations.

Starting in the National offensive line will be: ends Hilliard Hill, USC and John Aveni, Indiana; tackles Norin Sixta, Minnesota, and Ken Schultz, Minnesota; guards Jim Healy, Holy Cross, and Frank Fiorentino, USC; center Charley Warnosky, Boston University.

Santa and the ELF BOY

by LUCRECE HUDGINS BEALE

SYNOPSIS: Seeking the Hag to ask her to lift the spell over the professor's wife and save the fairies, Esteban travels to the moon in Santa's sleigh. He is met by an old, old man who says he is the Man in the Moon.

Chapter Fifteen

THE HANGDOG HAG
"The Man in the Moon!" cried Esteban. "I never really believed there was such a one!"
"Ah, yes," said the old, old man, stroking his long white beard. "I've lived here for over a thousand years. I have often been lonely for there is no other soul who lives on the moon save me. But here is a funny thing! I have never had a visitor until recently and now you are the second one to come!"

"Who was the other one?" asked Esteban eagerly.

"A beautiful woman," said the old man dreamily. "My very breath was taken away when I saw her and I could find no words to speak. Then it was too late for she hid herself in yonder cave and will not come out."

All is lost, thought Esteban in despair. This creature cannot be the Hangdog Hag for she is ugly beyond belief.

The Man in the Moon held up the staff he leaned on. "But I have this!" he said happily. "It is the stick she arrived on."

Esteban's heart leaped with joy. The stick was a broom with all the straws broken off and he knew it was the kind of a broom that hags and witches ride. Then he understood that, since the old man had not seen a woman in a thousand years, even the Hag looked beautiful to him.

"Take me to the cave where she hides!" he cried.

The old man gladly led Esteban to a cave in the hills.

"Old Hag, come out!" shouted Esteban. "I have come all the way from the earth to see you!"

The Hangdog Hag peered at Esteban from the moon-cave.

way from the earth to see you!"

Almost instantly the burning coal eyes of the Hangdog Hag peered from the cave. Snakes of hair encircled her head and fell to her scrawny, hunched shoulders.

"A-are you really from the earth?" she quavered.

"I have flown here in Santa's sleigh just to see you," said Esteban. "For you placed a spell on the wife of Professor Szpiki so that she could never wake again."

The Hag nodded. "She was so beautiful," she muttered with trembling lips. "And I am so ugly."

"The professor is broken-hearted. He has made a gas that he will release on Christmas Day. It will destroy you and every fairy creature on the earth."

The Hag cackled. "It will not destroy me. I am no longer on the earth!"

"True. But your brothers and sisters and aunts and nephews—think of them! Oh, do break the spell and save Fairyland on earth!"

The Hag's long crooked teeth chewed on her lip. At last she said, "If I give you a powder that will break the spell will you take me back to earth with you in Santa's sleigh?"

Esteban's eyes grew wide with surprise.

"When I landed here," said the Hag, "my broom straws broke off my broom and I can't fly."

"I'll give you a broom," said Esteban. "I'll give you a broom."

"I'll give you a broom," said Esteban. "I'll give you a broom."

DENIES LINK TO RACKETS IN PITTSBURGH

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Dist. Atty. Joseph E. Kovach of Fayette County has categorically denied allegations linking him to numbers rackets and indicated they were politically motivated.

Frederick W. Lape of Uniontown and Joseph Kurek Jr. of Brownsville, two admitted numbers writers, testified Thursday in U.S. District Court here that Kovach and James Eadie, chief of Fayette County detective, ordered them to deal with certain bookies.

"I personally know," Kovach said, "that Lape and Kurek are friends of my political enemies. I'm interested in curbing whatever rackets there are in Fayette County."

Atty. Alex Z. Goldstein of Uniontown, a spokesman for Eadie, quoted the detectives as saying that the accusations were "absurd and ridiculous."

Both Lape and Kurek appeared as volunteer government witnesses against Albert Pauline of Bentleyville, Washington County, who was charged with violating probation by engaging in the numbers racket.

Pauline was sentenced to 18 months in prison but will not begin his term until after Christmas. Meanwhile, he is free on bond.

A federal grand jury will resume its probe into Pittsburgh district rackets next month.

PA. WAGE ORDER IS RULED OUT

HARRISBURG (AP)—Future increases provided in a minimum wage order for women and minors in retail trade were ruled out Thursday by the Dauphin County Court.

The court, however, upheld current provisions of the order which were attacked by six small retailers.

Acting President Judge William H. Neely said the provision for future increases in the order "cannot be permitted to stand," but said rates provided in the order could be reconsidered at a later date.

The order provided a $1 an hour minimum wage in cities having 500,000 or more population; 85 cents an hour in communities between 10,000 and 500,000, and 75 cents an hour in communities of less than 10,000.

A schedule of increases in the order would have boosted the minimum wage in the smaller communities periodically until the $1 minimum applied to the whole state.

LARAMIE, Wyo. (AP)—Richard Goodman got a Christmas tree for free this year, but he's considering buying the tree next year.

Goodman spent 26 hours on a trek to nearby Snowy Range to cut a tree, and car troubles on the snowy mountain roads cost him $286.30.

Police who went to the scene said everything was all right. The men were playing cribbage, a card game.

CLAIMS UNION SOUGHT TO BUY HIS CONTRACT

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y. (AP)—Godfrey Schmidt, a court-appointed monitor over Teamsters Union affairs, said Friday that the union offered to pay him the $155,000 it owes him if he would quit his post.

Schmidt, a New York attorney, represented rank-and-file Teamsters a year ago when they brought a suit that temporarily kept James R. Hoffa from taking office as Teamsters president.

Schmidt said from his home here that the sum owed him includes a fee of $105,000 as counsel for the insurgents and $50,000 for a year's services as one of the union's three monitors.

The story appeared Thursday night in the Minneapolis Tribune and the Des Moines Register and was copyrighted by them.

The Tribune and Register story quoted Schmidt as saying he has rejected the union proposal.

Schmidt and Martin Donoghue, monitor chairman, have formed a majority on the monitors' board in adopting a policy of toughness against Hoffa. They have demanded that racketeers who dominate locals in some areas be eliminated.

The third monitor is L. N. D. Wells, attorney for the Hoffa-dominated Southern Conference of Teamsters.

ROME (AP)—Stefan Cardinal Wyszynski left for Warsaw Friday as scores of Poles in exile from communism shouted: "Don't go back! You'll never be able to leave again!"

The Roman Catholic primate of Poland came to Rome two months ago for the conclave which elected Pope John XXIII to succeed Pius XII.

At the railroad station Friday anti-Communist Poles pressed about the prelate, clutching at his robes and shouting.

Cardinal Wyszynski was under house arrest in Poland during the 1953 consistory at which he became a cardinal. After Wladyslaw Gomulka rose to power in Poland in 1956, he was released and relations between church and state improved.

HONG KONG (AP)—Richard G. Corden, ringleader of the 21 American turncoats of the Korean War, emerged from Red China Friday spouting the Communist line full blast.

Corden, 31, from East Providence, R.I., told a news conference: "I firmly believe there is more democracy in Communist China than in the United States. I've got nothing to be ashamed of. I learned a lot."

He left Communist China because he was homesick and could not finish his studies in ancient Chinese literature.

He is the 10th of the turncoats to return from Red China. One other died there. Corden said the 10 still behind the Bamboo Curtain are doing well and he knows of none who want to return to America.

ROME (AP)—The Rome appeals court is not going to decide whether Ingrid Bergman and Roberto Rossellini can have an annulment before February.

The court held a closed hearing Friday on the state prosecutor's appeal against the annulment appeal against the annulment.

Favors Admission Charge For Parks

HARRISBURG (AP)—Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters, says he favors the idea of charging admission to state parks.

However, Goddard said Thursday night he has not decided whether the issue should be pushed in the 1959 Legislature. He said opinion in the General Assembly is divided on the subject.

Goddard, recently reappointed to his cabinet post, told the television news panel, Capitol Correspondents (WTPA), that many other states charge admission to state parks.

Turning to the 1959-61 budget requests for his department, the forests and waters secretary said, "We will ask several million dollars more for flood control," and "several million for the purchase of land for future state parks."

DELAYS RETIREMENT
CARLISLE, Pa. (AP)—Dickinson College announced today that Dr. William W. Edel, its president since 1946, will defer his retirement until the end of the present term in July.

Dr. Edel a year ago informed the board he desired to retire on March 16, 1959 at the age of 65. The college board at a recent meeting reported a successor has yet to be selected and requested that Dr. Edel remain at the post.

granted by the Rome district court last July. Another hearing was scheduled for Feb. 3.

The state prosecutor contends that the district court had no jurisdiction or authority to annul the Mexican proxy marriage. Rosellini, with Miss Bergman concurring, had obtained the annulment on the ground that the marriage was not valid.

GENEVA (AP)—The three-nation talks on a nuclear test ban adjourned Friday for a two-week Christmas recess.

At the last meeting before the recess, U.S. delegate James J. Wadsworth submitted technical program for the staffing and equipment of a worldwide chain of observer posts. It will be discussed after the conference resumes on Jan. 5.

PARIS (AP)—European NATO diplomats Friday viewed Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan's coming trip to America as a political gesture connected with the West Berlin crisis and a possible East-West summit meeting.

They regarded the Soviet maneuver with mixed feelings of hope that it might ease tension, and fear that their governments would be bypassed by the two world giants, the United States and the Soviet Union.

ALGIERS (AP)—Gen. Raoul Salan, departing for Paris and a new post, Friday was besieged by 500 right-wing French war veterans shouting, "Stay with us, general, the civilians will betray us."

A group of bemuddled generals, aided by police, finally managed to lead Salan to his car.

Salan, the military commander in Algeria, took over control of the civil administration when right-wing colonists and officers rebelled last May against the Paris government. Premier de Gaulle is making him inspector general of national defense.

Watch Poultry Feeding To Avoid Winter Slumps In Egg Yield, Zettle Says

If you keep a weather eye on the amount of feed your laying birds eat in really cold weather, you can avoid those winter slumps in egg production. It's true that other conditions, such as housing, health, weather, or a combination of these may affect feed consumption, but when these factors are under control, feed management still is important, says County Farm Agent Frank Zettle.

The American breeds will eat between 25 and 30 pounds of feed per hundred hens every day, and Leghorns will eat between 20 and 25 pounds daily per hundred birds.

When body weight is satisfactory and production about 50 per cent, equal amounts of grain and mash will do a good job in production and keeping up body weight. But when production goes beyond fifty per cent, things may be different. You can stimulate appetite by juggling the grain and mash intake to meet requirements. When production slumps occur, it may be more often due to lack of mash, rather than grain because mash contains more of the material needed to produce eggs.

In cold weather, heavy grain feeding at night helps the birds during the period they're on the roost. Several light feedings of grain scattered in the litter may be helpful in extremes of weather, when the birds are inclined to clump in corners or on the roost. A hot mash could help out as well.

Main idea is to keep feed consumption going at a normal rate to meet the bird's requirements . . . and in very cold weather get as much feed into the birds as they will reasonably take. After the cold wave has passed, the birds will snap back to normal, if their health hasn't been affected.

One of the most used pieces of machinery on our dairy farms is the milking machine unit. The milking machine also can be the most misused unit as well.

To make sure your milking machine unit is working perfectly, check just a few key points.

First is lubrication of your equipment. About four times a year it pays to remove the old oil, flush the vacuum pump with kerosene, drain, and put in new oil as recommended by the manufacturer.

Most milking machine units have rubber connectors to prevent electrical shock. . . so check yours over to make sure they're intact. Replace if missing.

The next major step to look at is checking belt tension. If there's more than one inch of play in the belt, it means the belt will slip and not deliver as much vacuum as you should have.

Check and clean your pulsators often, and be sure those vacuum lines are clean, too. Make sure you have good, clean rubber, so your unit will operate the way it did when it was new.

Yet, if you provide your milking machine unit with good care, and if you practice managed milking, you can save time, and cows will have healthier udders and produce more milk.

Leptospirosis is causing serious losses in cattle and swine herds in most counties in Pennsylvania. In counties where the disease is active, cattle herds have suffered major losses in aborted calves and lowered production. The disease is usually self-limiting in cattle herds; that is, it usually goes through the herd and disappears. Because infected swine shed the organism for a much longer period of time, it is possible for the disease to remain in a swine herd and cause trouble for several years.

Weak litters, stillborn pigs, abortions and lack of milk are common leptospirosis symptoms when the disease strikes close to farrowing time. During early pregnancy infected animals may fail to show any symptoms, but early abortions have been reported. Sows which have shown leptospirosis usually breed back after a thirty-day rest period without any difficulty.

Vaccination against leptospirosis is generally recommended to protect breeding swine. Leptospirosis bacteria contains no living organisms and will not introduce the infection into a herd. Animals which become infected following vaccination experience only a mild form of the disease and seldom carry the disease. It is best to vaccinate animals prior to breeding, and annual vaccination is considered to be sufficient under most circumstances.

Herd additions should be blood tested for leptospirosis. Vaccinate them and keep them away from the herd for a month. Lepto can be a real nightmare when breeding cattle and affected swine are kept together. Wildlife carriers, especially rats, are an important source of infection. Under present-day conditions it would seem wise for owners of breeding swine to vaccinate their herds annually. Lepto vaccination may make the difference between profit and loss for breeding swine in Pennsylvania for the next few years.

Here's the Answer

QUESTION: I want to put down asphalt tile on a concrete floor. The floor has always seemed perfectly level, but in checking it the other day I discovered that it slants a little in one direction. Will this have any effect on the tile?

ANSWER: The slanting of the concrete floor will in no way impair the effectiveness of the job. If the adhesive and tiles are put down properly, they will remain in place just as long on a slanted floor as on one that is perfectly level. However, it is important that the concrete be fairly smooth. An irregularity at some point may later cause the tiles in that particular area to crack and break.

QUESTION: Is it safe to remove old paint from the outside of a wooden house with a blow torch?

ANSWER: Not for you it isn't.

QUESTION: I have a table saw which I bought about a year ago. The rip fence on it has a handle which locks in place when it is pushed downward. Lately I notice that, after the handle presumably is locked, there is a little play in it . . . not much, maybe a 32nd of an inch . . . but enough so that making a perfect rip cut is somewhat difficult. Can this be fixed?

ANSWER: When a rip fence on a table saw has some play in it, there is more to it than the failure to get an accurate cut. If it moves at all while a piece of wood is being cut, there is always the danger that the wood will get pinched between the fence and the saw blade, with possible injury to you. Do not use the fence again in that condition. Check the lock end of the fence, the part farthest away from you when you are making a cut. See if there isn't a tiny knob up under the metal housing. If there is, a slight turn of this knob may be sufficient adjustment to keep the fence in place. If this does not work, you have no choice but to take the fence back to where you bought the table saw (1) in hope that it can be fixed or (2) to buy a new one of the same size.

Life management specialist, says the home gardener can prevent damage by using hardware cloth cylinders or layers of heavy weatherproof paper or aluminum foil.

Install Lighting — Properly installed floodlights are an asset to farm and home grounds. Joseph McCurdy, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, suggests lights for paths and driveway, steps and walkways, yard and building entrances, outdoor feeding and watering areas, and unloading areas for feed and supplies.

Protect Water Pipes — "An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure" applies to the problem of frozen water pipes. Henry Woodling, Penn State extension agricultural engineer, says it is much easier to protect the pipes from freezing than to do without water after they are frozen.

Dry Corn With Heat — Pennsylvania's climate demands that corn harvested by combine or field shellers must be dried with heated air for safe storage, according to William Kjelgaard, Penn State agricultural experiment station engineer.

Get Soil Samples — Don't wait until the soil is frozen solid before taking these samples to be tested this winter, warns Wayne Hinish, Penn State extension agronomist. The Pennsylvania State University Soil Testing Service would like them now.

Study At Home — Winter is a good time to enroll for the eighteen correspondence course on Farm Management offered by the Pennsylvania State University.

Plan Tot Parties In Holiday Array

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Christmas is a time for children, when every small treat, toy or decoration becomes a magic thing, to be cherished and remembered.

It's a time to plan children's parties, and to make them as gay and memorable as you can. The party table is, of course, the focal point, and it's easy to decorate it with festive homemade ornaments, made from such simple things as paper plates and hard candies.

Choose paper plates in red, green and white. Cut out a Christmas tree from the green plate, a snowman from the white one, Christmas bells from the red one. Trim the tree and decorate the snowman and the bells with bright colored tiny hard candies. Then mount each on another paper plate, or paste to a small base of stiff cardboard to make them stand erect.

For the party dessert serve ice cream clouds. Just turn an ice cream cone upside down on a paper plate and make a raisin face on the ice cream.

DISCARDED FIRE TREES PREVENT TOP SOIL LOSS

LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — Experts have written that one of this nation's greatest threats is the loss of priceless soil to erosion.

A little band of Los Alamos people, enlisting the aid of the honorably discharged Christmas tree, have been doing their bit for several years now in an effort to fight erosion here. They would like to see the idea catch on at a statewide level and more.

Instead of casting the Christmas tree into bonfires or the incinerator or the neighbor's back yard, people in Los Alamos save theirs for the members of the Isaac Walton League and the Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts. These organizations see to it that the old trees and dumped systematically in places where they can contribute to soil conservation.

Tons Of Soil Saved

Dave Shaffer, a leader in the Isaac Walton League, estimates that the Christmas tree plan has resulted in the conserving of several hundred tons of soil in the last three years.

As people of Los Alamos have become acquainted with the plan, cooperation has increased to the point where they practically demand that their trees be collected. Shaffer said, and the task of collecting has become much easier and requires less time.

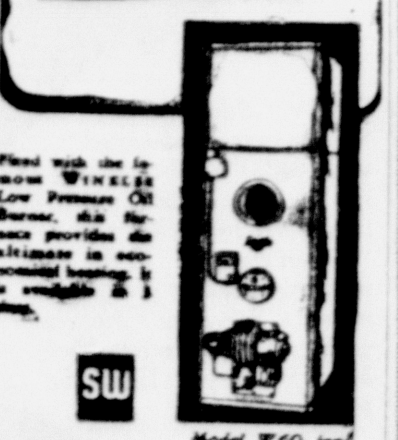

The collecting plan begins at the Cub Scout pack level, with members of the dens and packs collecting the trees placed in the yards of their particular neighborhoods. They are taken to a central location, from where the Isaac Walton League members and Boy Scouts truck them to arroyos in the Los Alamos or Bandelier Monument areas.

The trees are dumped into will hold their annual meeting at 7 p.m. January 12 in Room C of the State Farm Show Building. Swine will be judged January 12, 13, 14 and 15 at the 1959 Farm Show.

Room C in the Farm Show Building will be site of the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania Vegetable Growers' Association at 1:30 p.m. January 13.

GOLDFINE IS FOUND GUILTY OF CONTEMPT

BOSTON (AP) — Industrialist Bernard Goldfine was convicted in federal court Friday of criminal contempt for failure to comply with the court's order to produce records of one of his textile mills in a tax probe.

About the same time Judge Charles E. Wyzanski Jr. was filing his decision in Boston, the 67-year old Goldfine was pleading innocent in Washington to a contempt of Congress indictment.

Goldfine's secretary, Miss Mildred Paperman, also was found guilty of criminal contempt in regard to the Strathmore Mills of Boston and the Northfield Mills of Northfield, Vt., two other Goldfine enterprises.

The Goldfine conviction was on books of the Lebanon Mills of Lebanon, N. H.

Flouted Congress

Goldfine was found innocent on complaints regarding the records of the Lebanon Mills of Lebanon, N. H., and George Mabbett & Sons Co., of Plymouth, Mass.

In Washington Goldfine is accused of flouting Congress by refusing to tell House investigators enough about his financial dealings.

In the Washington hearing it was brought out Goldfine had made gifts to former presidential aide Sherman Adams and other public officials. Adams denied there was any wrongdoing in the matter. He subsequently resigned his White House post.

Goldfine stepped forward briskly today when his name was called in District Court in the nation's capital. He pleaded "not guilty" in a firm voice. Judge John J. Sirica set his trial for March 16.

Goldfine had little to say to reporters and was unaware at the time of the court action in Boston.

In the Boston decision, Judge Wyzanski said he will impose sentence Monday.

arroyos with their trunk ends facing upstream. They are packed down thoroughly, thus providing a trap for drifting silt and pebbles and sticks.

Shaffer says that one big arroyo about five or six feet deep and a mile long has become overgrown with grass and weeds since the plan was begun three years ago, silting has practically ceased, and the arroyo has filled up to the stage where in another year or so it will be about levelled over.

Shaffer said league units in Colorado and in Las Vegas and Espanola are pursuing similar programs.

11 Minutes From New York To Phila.

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Eleven minutes from New York to Philadelphia. That's one meaning of the jet age for this city.

The speedy flight from New York to Philadelphia Thursday marked the inauguration of a new 9,500-foot runway designed for use by jet planes at Philadelphia's International Airport. Regular jet service is expected to begin next year.

The American Airlines Boeing 707, which made the flight at a cruising speed of eight miles a minute, carried no passengers. The big craft needed only 3,750 feet of the new runway for its landing.

RESCUE DEER OFF BAY ICE

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — No kiddies, that wasn't one of Santa's reindeer on that boat Friday. It was a deer, sort of worn out and perhaps seasick from a chilly stay on a chunk of ice on the upper Chesapeake Bay.

The good crew of the tug Cavalier spotted the forlorn buck on a five-foot square piece of ice about four miles off shore.

He was worn out, said the Cavalier's skipper, Perrin Cudworth.

Cudworth maneuvered the tug to within 12 feet of the ice, and with a seamanly lasso, looped a rope over the sea-going maverick. After a struggle, the crew hauled him aboard. Cudworth estimated the deer weighed 225 pounds, and had been marooned for two days.

The deer was put on a leash, fed apples, cabbage and collard greens, and covered with canvas. And there he was, tied to the towing winch on the stern, when the Cavalier pulled into port today.

Two state game wardens were waiting and hauled him off to the Dismal Swamp, where he was turned loose to roam.

Recipes for jams and jellies usually direct that the mixture be brought to "a full rolling boil;" that means a boil that can't be stirred down.

700 FRIENDS IN TRIBUTE TO BROOKS HAYS

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even a loser has his moments of triumph. Such a moment came Thursday night for Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark). Hays, an avowed moderate on the segregation issue, was unseated last month by Dr. Dale Alford, Little Rock segregationist who ran as a late entry write-in candidate.

In tribute to Hays, about 700 friends and well wishers assembled at a dinner and heard him praised by many national figures.

Responding, Hays said the cause of moderation is not hopeless. He called for "an appreciation of what the rule of law means in sustaining our liberties and our property."

Laudatory messages read from many national figures unable to attend. Included were telegrams from Adlai Stevenson, one of the sponsors of the event; Vice President Richard M. Nixon; Gov. Price Daniel of Texas; and various members of Congress.

Nixon said Hays' "outstanding reputation was enhanced rather than tarnished by defeat."

Among the speakers was evangelist Billy Graham, a member of the Southern Baptist Convention of which Hays is president. Graham said Hays, now completing 16 years in Congress, "has helped lift the word 'politics' out of the mud."

While there were many references to Hays' defeat, there was no mention of Alford, the man who beat him by 1,200 votes.

Alford, however, has no clear path to Hays' seat. A special House committee, by a 3-2 vote, recommended Wednesday that Alford be denied the seat until an investigation is made of charges there were irregularities in the election. The House will decide that matter on Jan. 7.

None of the other Arkansas senators and representatives attended, although Sen. J. W. Fulbright (D) was listed among ticket purchasers and sent a telegram praising Hays as a "fine public servant."

Won't Be Easy But Family Of 14 Will Have Christmas

By WILLIAM J. CONWAY
CHICAGO (AP)—They're going to have Christmas at the Herman Smith house, but it won't be easy.

"It happened too near Christmas to do anything much," Mrs. Smith said, "but we're going to have a tree and things."

What happened was that Mrs. Smith's mother Mrs. Alberta Williams died Nov. 8. While the mother was on her deathbed, Mrs. Smith vowed to keep the 14 young Williams children together.

Youngest Two Months
Mrs. Smith took charge of her brothers and sisters, ranging in age from 2 months to 13 years. She has four youngsters of her own, aged 2 months to 4 years.

So now Mrs. Smith is mothering 18 little ones. And she herself is only 22.

Mrs. Smith—her given name is Marie—is a tall, shapely girl with wide-set brown eyes and hair drawn back in a pony tail. To a reporter who visited her she looked like a high school senior.

How does she manage?

Up At 4:30 A.M.
"I get up at 4:30," she said. "Have to get a brother off on his paper route. Then I get breakfast ready. One mornin' it's oatmeal, one mornin' pancakes, one mornin' grits and eggs."

Mrs. Smith, who used to live in Atlanta, whips up biscuits for breakfast and corn bread for the evening meal.

At supper I feed 'em in shifts," she said. "First the babies, then the school kids, then the grownups. We can eat in peace that way."

Have 14 Rooms
How about living space?
The Smiths have been living in a six-room basement flat in an old frame house. They have just rented the eight rooms on the first floor to give them a total of 14.

"The rent for the two flats is $120 a month," said Herman Smith, 32, who makes $60 a week as a gasoline station attendant. "It takes $50 to $75 a week for groceries."

Gets Assistance
The bulk of the double family's income is $414 a month for aid to dependent children. It goes to the widower, Alonzo Williams, who lives with the Smiths. He isn't working because of a chronic stomach ailment.

Mrs. Smith, who shows a fondness for such newfangled styles as tuxedo pants while displaying the dauntless spirit of pioneer womenfolk, is determined to keep all the kids together.

"I got love for my brothers and sisters and I can't see 'em livin' anywhere else," she said.

York Springs

CHILDREN TO GIVE PROGRAM

Recitations and exercises will comprise the Christmas program Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock in the York Springs Methodist Church under the direction of the teachers of the children's department. Mrs. Mary Whitcomb, Miss Ruth Guise, Mrs. Dorothy Williams, Mrs. Harry Dixon, Mrs. Merle Millhimes and Mrs. Oscar Whitcomb.

The program will include "Welcome," a recitation by Donna Jean Kemper; "We're Glad," Bobby King; "Happy Birthday," an exercise by Kay Miller, Tommy Williams, Debbie Williams and Ruth Meyers; "A Happy Birthday," Ella Jean Baugher, Freddie McCauslin, Jackie Hinkle, Gerald McCauslin, Jacqueline Yost, Barry Rhoads, Vickie Miller, Douglas Washington, Susan McCartney, Wayne Milhimes, Kathy Gaston, Keith Lerew and Ann Gaston; "I Came to Say," David Baugher; "My Gift," Jerry Shank; "Helping Others," Victor Lerew; "Winter Joys," Michelle Hinkle and Jennie Milhimes; "Peace on Earth," Jo Ann Hankey, Judy Bly, Betty Slasman, Connie May, Beth Hoff, Janet Miller, Rebecca Yost, Linda Feather, Dawn Washington, Steven Miller, Billy Bly and Kenneth Miller; "The Christ Child," Wayne Hoff and Gary Lerew; "A Little Hill Near Bethlehem," Melinda Rhoads, and "Blessing," Billy Hinkle.

The congregation will sing "There's A Song In The Air," "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks."

The children's and adult choirs will present the anthem, "And There Were Shepherds," at the morning worship service. The choirs are under the direction of Mrs. June Rhoads and Mrs. Merle Millhimes.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Post Office Department, in a move to speed delivery of Christmas mail, has asked chambers of commerce in 950 major cities for reports on how the service is going in their areas.

"Any reports received indicating unsatisfactory service will be followed by immediate action on our part to remedy the condition," Postmaster General Summerfield said in a statement today.

Change Sites For S. S. Consultations

Sites where representatives of Social Security make regular visits to meet with anyone wishing to consult with them on Social Security matters have been changed in Littlestown, McSherrystown and Biglerville.

Previously the Social Security representatives visited the fire halls in each of the communities. Starting in January the representatives will be at the Littlestown Eagles' home from 10:30 to noon on the morning of each third Tuesday of the month. At McSherrystown they will be at the Moose Home on the first Tuesday of each month from 10:30 to noon. At Biglerville they will be at St. Paul's Lutheran Church the last Friday of each month from 10:30 to noon. This month's visit to Biglerville was made today because of the forthcoming holiday season.

POPE BLESSES 2 LITTLE YANKS

VATICAN CITY (AP)—Pope John XXIII today blessed the little children of America during an audience for 300 Roman Catholics who accompanied Boston's Cardinal Cushing and Philadelphia's John Cardinal O'Hara to Rome for the ceremonies elevating them to the purple.

Smiling and waving his arms, the Pope spoke in Italian from a throne in the Vatican's Clementine Hall. Francis Cardinal Spellman, archbishop of New York, stood next to him and translated the brief speech into English. Cardinals O'Hara and Cushing sat at one side.

At the end, the Pope pointed to two tow-haired youngsters in the front row of Americans, 10-year-old Peter and 8-year-old Richard Neeson of Cynwyd, Pa. They are the sons of Philadelphia attorney John Neeson, former president of the city's Notre Dame Alumni Club.

In an unusual gesture, the three American cardinals joined, at the Pope's invitation, in giving the apostolic blessing.

Lawrence Names Two Secretaries

HARRISBURG (AP)—Gov.-elect Lawrence Friday named his chief aide in Pittsburgh, Walter W. Giesey, to the key office of secretary of administration.

At the same time, Dr. John H. Ferguson, present holder of the office made public his resignation, effective Jan. 20, the day the new administration takes office.

Lawrence also named Otis B. Morse 4th as his executive secretary.

U. S. PRESTIGE BOUNDS HIGH WITH ATLAS

By LEWIS GULICK
WASHINGTON (AP)—America's scientific and military prestige, a key element in the cold war, rebounded high today from the lows of double disaster a year ago.

A mighty U. S. Atlas rocket roared into orbit around the earth Thursday night. It became a satellite weighing between 8,700 and 8,800 pounds—three times heavier than the biggest Soviet Sputnik.

That was a comparison easily understood by the man in the street in London, Moscow and New Delhi.

Military Significance
It carried significance too for the military officer and government official: the United States had a missile with power and control to dump a nuclear warhead on a target on another continent.

Of such stuff is made prestige that can bolster friends, give pause to enemies and nudge the vital in-betweeners who want to lean with the winning side.

The U. S. comeback seemed incredible in view of the shattering Soviet success starting with Sputnik I Oct. 4, 1957, a Pearl Harbor Day for U. S. prestige.

Setback Dec. 6
On Nov. 3 the Russians threw into orbit Sputnik II, carrying little dog Laika. The weight this time: a half ton.

On Dec. 6, Pearl Harbor Day again so far as U. S. prestige was concerned, America's first satellite-bearing rocket—a Navy Vanguard—blew up on its launching pad.

Not until Jan. 31 of this year did the United States get its first foot in the satellite race. But the Army's Explorer I weighed only 31 pounds, a midjet against its Soviet rivals.

Steps Of Progress
On March 17 the Navy finally got a satellite into orbit too, shooting Vanguard I to a record far point of 2,246 miles to give its satellite a top life expectancy of 200 years. But Vanguard I was a Lilliputian 3 1/4 pounds.

On May 15 the Russians tossed up Sputnik III, 2,929 pounds. It's still going.

Yet the American scientific show was coming to life. An atomic sub nosed under the arctic icecap. The Air force and the Army tried rockets that soared a third of the way to the moon. An Atlas zoomed a course for 6,325 miles across the Atlantic.

PANMUNJOM (AP)—The North Korean Communists Friday demanded that the U. N. Command immediately withdraw the atomic-capable Matador guided missile and all other up-to-date weapons brought into South Korea in the past 18 months.

The U. N. Command immediately rejected the Red demands, made at a meeting of the Military Armistice Commission.

tary, the same position he now holds with Gov. Leader although the title is new.

Man Is Convicted Of Robbing Bank

SCRANTON, Pa. (AP)—A U. S. District Court jury Thursday night convicted 29-year-old Salvatore Pantano of robbing a Wayne County bank of more than $1,600 last Aug. 21.

Pantano also was convicted of slugging a bank cashier with a pistol.

The jury of eight women and four men deliberated about 2 1/2 hours before returning the guilty verdict.

Pantano, father of two children, was held in Lackawanna County jail. U. S. District Judge John W. Murphy deferred sentencing.

NEW GOVERNOR HAS HALF OF NEW CABINET

HARRISBURG (AP)—Selection of a cabinet to serve with Gov.-elect David L. Lawrence neared the halfway point Friday after the incoming governor named two more members of the Leader Cabinet.

Lawrence increased the total number of Cabinet members he has selected to eight Thursday by retaining Joseph T. Kennedy, Wilkes-Barre, as secretary of mines and Robert L. Myers Jr., Camp Hill, as secretary of banking.

Nine Cabinet posts remained to be filled for the new administration, starting Jan. 20. These include the important appointments for secretary of highways, secretary of public welfare, attorney general and state police commissioner.

Retained 6 Others
Lawrence previously had retained six other members of the Leader Cabinet to serve with him in the new Democratic administration.

They are Dr. Charles L. Wilbar Jr., secretary of health; Maj. Gen. Anthony J. Drxsel Biddle, state adjutant general; John S. Rice, secretary of the Commonwealth; Andrew M. Bradley, secretary of property and supplies; Dr. William L. Henning, secretary of agriculture, and Dr. Maurice K. Goddard, secretary of forests and waters.

Kennedy has been associated with the mining industry and the United Mine Workers of America since 1916.

WILBAR URGES VACCINE SHOTS
HARRISBURG (AP)—Immediate vaccination against polio for persons who have not received the series of Salk vaccine shots was urged by Dr. Charles L. Wilbar, state health secretary.

The number of polio cases in Pennsylvania this year has reached 119, he said, and 86 of the reported cases received no vaccine.

"This is ample statistical proof that Salk vaccine can prevent polio," the health secretary said in a report Thursday.

Of the state's polio total for this year, 75 cases were in the 0-5 year age group, 13 in the 6-10 age group, 12 in the 11-20 age bracket.

PRESIDENT SHARES SECRET OF SATELLITE

By FRANCES LEWINE
WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower strode dramatically into the center of a glittering White House diplomatic gathering to announce that the United States had placed a nearly 9,000-pound satellite in orbit.

He gave his dinner guests—top-ranking diplomats from 41 other nations—the first word of the great scientific advance Thursday night.

The news that a mighty Atlas missile was in orbit reached the President at the White House minutes before he was due to go down to the state dinner.

Shares His Secret
He decided to share his secret with his dinner guests even before his press secretary, James C. Hagerty, made the news known to the rest of the world.

But he saved the dramatic moment until he had shaken hands with each of the 78 guests assembled in the East Ballroom.

The red-coated Marine Corps band, unaware of the President's plan, had struck up a march for the chief executive to lead his guests from the ballroom to the state dining room.

But Eisenhower didn't follow the schedule. Instead, he turned back into the middle of the ballroom.

There, standing beneath three glittering chandeliers and in the dazzle of an 18-foot Christmas tree, he announced that he had something interesting to tell his guests.

Simply, the President reported that the United States had gotten a satellite of almost 9,000 pounds into orbit and it was expected to stay there about 25 days.

The diplomats applauded.

Philadelphia leads the state with 64 polio cases.

Other counties and the number of polio cases reported are Luzerne and Mercer, 5 each; Blair and Delaware, 4; Cambria and Lancaster, 3; Allegheny, Berks, Bucks, Chester, Clearfield, Fulton, Indiana, Venango, Warren, 2.

One case was reported in each of these counties Adams, Bedford, Clarion, Crawford, Dauphin, Erie, Lackawanna, Lawrence, Lycoming, Northumberland, Schuylkill, Susquehanna and Westmoreland.

Xmas Eve Service At Taneytown

The singing of the "Hallelujah Chorus," by Handel, will highlight and conclude the Christmas Eve service in Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown. The senior and youth choirs will sing several other numbers and congregation will sing Christmas carols, by candlelight, during the service which begins at 7:30 p.m. A table will depict a group of angels at the manger.

On Sunday morning at 10 o'clock the children of the church school will present their Christmas program. Sunday evening, following the meetings of the catechetical classes, members of the Intermediate and Senior Luther League will hold their Christmas program and will go caroling in the community afterwards.

The church is also displaying a lighted nativity scene.

Last Sunday the Senior Luther held its white gift service in which 95 gifts were received and directed to the Tressler Home for Children, Loysville, and the Konarock School, in the mountains of Virginia.

UNION LEADER IS ACQUITTED

ALIQUIPPA, Pa. (AP)—Nicholas Mamula, president of Local 1211 United Steelworkers and a leader of the dissident Dues Protest Committee, has been acquitted by a local trial board of dual unionism charges.

"There is no competent or relevant evidence in support of said charges," the trial board ruled Thursday.

The charges against Mamula, a 48-year-old furnace charger at the Aliquippa Works of Jones & Laughlin Steel Corp., were filed by Michael Young, Alex Pilotti and John Markovich.

Following Mamula's acquittal, counter charges were filed against Young, Pilotti and Markovich by Wilbur E. Fogle, a local member.

He accused them of "circulating false reports, misrepresentation and slandering and wilfully wronging a member." However, the counter charges were withdrawn by Fogle at the request of Mamula.

Elmer (Moose) Vasko, colorful defenseman of the Chicago Black Hawks, is the tallest player in the National Hockey League. He is 6-feet-4 and scales 210 pounds.

LEGAL BATTLE OVER GIRARD RULES ENDING

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A long legal battle to have two Negro boys admitted to Girard College appeared just about over today, with the school to continue its traditional all-white enrollment.

The board of city trusts filed an audit of the estate of Stephen Girard, founder of the school, Thursday. There was no opposition to its acceptance.

Filing of the audit was the last step before the school passes from the board to a group of private trustees.

Board Taking Over
Under the will of Girard, an early American merchant, ship owner and philanthropist, the school was founded for the education of "poor white male orphans." Despite dozens of hearings, reaching all the way to the U. S. Supreme Court, efforts to enter negro boys in the school failed.

The Supreme Court ruled that it was illegal for the city to act in a fashion which upheld segregation, but it also said later that transfer of control from the public board to a private one was proper.

The private board is expected to adhere to the terms of Girard's will.

The private board will take over control of both the school and the 72-million dollar estate as soon as the funds are actually transferred.

Plan Checkup On Cars And Drivers
HARRISBURG (AP)—An intensified campaign to keep vehicles in poor mechanical condition off the Pennsylvania Turnpike over the holidays was started Friday by the Pennsylvania Turnpike Commission.

The commission said all toll collectors and all of the state police assigned to the toll road will be on the alert for vehicles with badly worn tires, inadequate lighting, or other unsafe conditions.

In addition, the commission said the toll collectors will take a look at each driver entering the super-highway to ascertain the motorists' physical condition.

The safety inspections are not new, the commission said, but are being accelerated during the holiday period to reduce the normal accident potential.

Electric Blanket For Indian Chief

ROCK HILL, S.C. (AP)—It was Boy Scouts to the rescue of an Indian chief — with an electric blanket!

This they gave to Chief Samuel Thunderbird Blue, 86-year-old patriarch of the York County tribe of the Catawba Indians.

The ailing chief, wrapped in four quilts and crouched close to a brisk wood fire at his home, shivered in the bitter winter weather.

The Boy Scouts conducted a blanket-for-the-chief drive.

Dressed in his tribal head dress the chief accepted the gift, a sky-blue electric blanket which he draped over his prized ceremonial robe containing pieces of buffalo hide more than 100 years old.

A Rock Hill civic club presented the chief with a second electric blanket for his 77-year-old squaw.

SLAIN CLERK HAD $85,000 IN INSURANCE

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Police investigating the mystery slaying of a 400-a-month clerk are trying to figure out where $87,000 worth of life insurance fits into the picture — if it does.

James Bullock, 27, was found lying on bullet wounds in front of the City Art Museum Wednesday night. He worked for the Union Electric Co. by day, attended classes at the University of St. Louis three nights a week and Saturday, and sang in a church choir on Sunday.

His wife of six months, Edna Ruth, 23, added $250 a month to the couple's income as a kindergarten teacher. In addition, they received $130 a month rent on the other half of a recently-purchased duplex in which they lived.

That gave them a total of $780 a month — before taxes and deductions.

Police, who provided the figures, said that out of this modest income the couple was paying $255 a month on the duplex, $55 on a car, and $35 on furniture. They also were making payments on a $2,000 credit union loan used to make part of the down payment on the duplex, and paying premiums on the $87,000 worth of life insurance.

An insurance policy for $45,000 came to light Friday when a quarterly payment of $65.85 was due. Police said Mrs. Bullock had told them she knew of only $42,000 worth of life insurance on her husband; a $9,000 policy with his employer, two $5,000 policies, and a $23,000 policy covering the mortgage on the duplex.

Sick, Tired, Old, Bulganin Grovels Before Khrushchev

By THOMAS P. WHITNEY
AP Foreign News Analyst

Sick, tired old Nikolai Bulganin groveled before Nikita Khrushchev Thursday and begged to be allowed to live out his days in peace.

Bulganin admitted to the Communist Party Central Committee that he had conspired against the party. The 64-year old former Soviet Premier said Premier Nikita Khrushchev was right in accusing him and four other ousted leaders of reactionary activities.

Khrushchev apparently staged the humiliation of his old traveling companion as a weapon against continued conservative opposition to his radical adaptations of Communist doctrine to Soviet economic conditions.

To Discredit Opposition

By making the proceedings of the committee meeting public immediately, Khrushchev took his case directly to the people, whom he is wooing with promises that industrial and agricultural innovations will mean better living.

Bulganin's confession and Khrushchev's own attacks on the five-man "anti-party group" are designed to discredit all who oppose Khrushchev.

Contrite speeches were one of the devices used by Stalin to discredit his opponents. They were a prelude to execution then. None of the anti-party five is known to have met a fate worse than banishment to a small-fry job in the provinces.

Onetime "Big Shot"

Former Premier Georgi Malenkov was last reported running a power station, former Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov was serving as ambassador to Outer Mongolia, former Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov was teaching school and onetime economic boss Lazar Kaganovich was running a factory.

Bulganin came out of semiretirement in southern Russia to speak again in the committee where once he was a prominent figure.

ATLAS BRINGS SPACE FLIGHT STEP NEARER

By ALTON BLAKESLEE

Associated Press Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—Atlas' triumph brings human space flight and astounding space laboratories a big step closer.

Sprung from well-kept secrecy, it could spur the Russians to push harder and faster in their always secret space plans.

Just 14½ months ago, man was still earthbound. Then Sputnik I startled, and shocked, the Western world.

Comeback For U. S.

Now the United States has scored a prodigious comeback. It possesses the heaviest as well as the most satellites. It has sent two probes nearly a third of the way to the moon.

Temporarily, America leads. But the Soviet Union could play the next trump soon. Indeed, some space experts are puzzled why she hasn't done something spectacular since the 1½-ton Sputnik soared up last May.

The main significance of Atlas is in advancing the ability accurately to thrust big and heavy satellites into space.

Big enough to carry men. Big enough to watch the world's weather in the making through TV eyes, tracking hurricanes, vastly improving forecasts.

Or act as great communications centers, instantaneously relaying a vast volume of cables, "mail" and TV shows to any point on earth.

Eagerly Anticipated

Or to carry telescopes seeing our universe with awesome and rewarding new clarity, undisturbed by the earth's shimmering air.

All these are eagerly anticipated by scientists. The Atlas missile will be a main workhorse toward these goals until far more powerful rockets are developed.

Plan Venus Shots

Atlas, with smaller rockets staged atop it, could also launch instrumented probes investigating Venus and Mars, or going into orbit as artificial planets of the sun. Shots for Venus and Mars are among U. S. current plans.

Before man looks down at earth from a sky perch, much hard work remains to be done. We must learn how to recover the protective, well-stocked capsule that can sustain his life within a satellite. Re-entry and medical problems of survival are being vigorously studied.

Rockets and controls must be made reliable enough to give any volunteer a really good chance of making the round trip.
